

Institutional Portfolio Research Journals Appoints Brett Hammond to Be Editor of The Journal of Retirement

NEW YORK, NY, July 13, 2018 — Institutional Portfolio Research Journals (formerly II Journals), a division of Pageant Media, has appointed Dr. P. Brett Hammond to be the editor of The Journal of Retirement. Dr. Hammond is a research leader with the Capital Group (American Funds). He was formerly a managing director at MSCI, where he served as head of multi-asset applied research and as head of index applied research. Previously, he was chief investment strategist at TIAA from 1993 to 2012. Earlier in his career, he was an assistant professor at UCLA and research analyst and lecturer at UC Berkeley.

Dr. Hammond received BA degrees in economics and political science from the University of California at Santa Cruz and a PhD from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is past president of the Society of Quantitative Analysts.

“We’re very lucky to have Dr. Hammond coming on board as the new editor of The Journal of Retirement,” said Dave Blide, publisher of Institutional Portfolio Research Journals. “Dr. Hammond’s distinguished career—particularly his role as chief investment strategist at TIAA for more than 18 years—positions him ideally to take over the reins of the journal,” added Blide.

Dr. Hammond succeeds George (Sandy) Mackenzie, who served as editor of The Journal of Retirement from the publication’s inception in 2013. “Mr. Mackenzie’s vision and resolve brought the journal into being and established it firmly as an authoritative research source for practitioners in the pension and retirement sphere,” observed Blide. “We are extremely grateful to Mr. Mackenzie for all that he has done for the journal,” added Blide. Mr. Mackenzie will remain associated with The Journal of Retirement as a member of the journal’s advisory board.
